ONE DAY WORKSHOP

GLOBAL HORIZONS : FOREIGN COLLABORATIONS UNDER NATIONAL EDUCATION POLICY, 2020

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

International research collaboration is widely advocated in places of higher learning. Fostering international partnerships/collaborations is necessary for universities and colleges in our increasingly interconnected academic world. These collaborations extend beyond sharing of resources, worldwide. International collaborations support the goal of "Internationalization at Home," as envisioned in NEP-2020, to address diverse global concerns and enable Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) to exchange ideas, cultures, and perspectives. One of the measures for Internationalization, as suggested in NEP-2020, is academic and research collaborations through MoUs between HEIs and Foreign Universities.

International research collaborations offer numerous advantages and hold great significance for institutions. It highlights the vital role of international partnerships in attaining academic excellence and promoting global growth in the form of :

- Enhancing Academic Quality.
- Broadening Research Horizons and Resources.
- Preparing Students for a Globalized World.
- Addressing Global Challenges through United Efforts.
- Cultural Exchange and Building of International Networks.

Thus, this workshop aims to serve as a milestone for building up a roadmap for foreign collaboration to overcome the challenges of the 21st century and to promote holistic development of students in higher education.

The workshop will be conducted in hybrid mode.
